Chicago, June 10.—Forty-eight southern delegates were turned into the "certain for Taft column" by the Republican national committee's decisions upon contests from Arkansas, Florida and Georgia. This brings the total accession in the two days' session up to 72, while none has been added to the Roosevelt list.

Ten of the Georgia districts—20 delegates—went to Taft in one blanket decision, both sides agreeing to their being decided upon the same arguments. The four delegates at large from the state also were given to Taft along with the two remaining districts with two delegates apiece.

Roosevelt Men Consent.
Twelve delegates from Florida and eight from Arkansas were given to Taft in addition to the Georgia delegates. So far every Taft delegate who has faced a contest has been placed on the convention temporary roll, and in practically every case this has been done with the Roosevelt committee's consent.

The cases passed upon were:
Arkansas—Third, Fourth, Fifth and Seventh districts. Eight delegates to Taft.
Florida—Six delegates at large and three districts. Twelve delegates to Taft.
Georgia—Four delegates at large and all of the twelve districts. Twenty-eight delegates to Taft.

Indiana Next Battleground.
Indiana will be the battlefield today, when the committee reconvenes. In that adjoining state Col. Harry S. New, President Taft's lieutenant, former Vice-President Charles W. Fairbanks, former Representative in Congress James E. Watson and Joseph D. Oliver have been contested as delegates at large by former Senator Albert J. Beveridge, Edwin M. Lee, Fred K. Landis and Charles H. Campbell, the Roosevelt standard bearers.

This fight promises to be the first real battle during the committee's sessions. The vote will no doubt clearly show the dividing lines between the factions on the committee. Four Indiana districts—the First, Third, Fourth and Thirteenth—are also contested.

Only One Test Vote.
Southern politics was given a public airing before the committee. Starting with the last three districts of Arkansas, the committee went through that state and then listened to Florida and Georgia's political woes. In these last two states all of the Taft delegates had been contested by the Rooseveltians. Full hearings were given every case and only in one instance did the Roosevelt leaders ask for a test of strength. They lost by a vote of 41 to 10.

In the Fifth Arkansas district, where charges of violence and fraud were made by both sides, Committee-man Burman of Kentucky asked that both delegates be seated with half a vote each. He lost by the above vote.

Vote on Contest.
The lineup on the test was:

AGAINST THE MOTION.
Barker, Alabama; Surges, Arizona; Clayton, Arkansas; Devine, Colorado; Brooker, Connecticut; Hubb, Florida; Blum, Georgia; Du Pont, Delaware; Lowden, Illinois; New, Indiana; Hart, Iowa; Mulvane, Kansas; Simpson, Maine; Jackson, Maryland; Crane, Massachusetts; Blodgett, Michigan; Moseley, Mississippi; Barthold, Mo.; Lanstrum, Mont.; Littauer, Nevada; Estabrook, N. Island; Martin, Virginia; Brock, Vermont; Stevenson, W. Va.; Perkins, Washington; Holstein, Hawaii; Paxton, Wyoming; Bieber, Dist. Colum.; Shackelford, Alaska; Todd, Porto Rico; McCoy, Philippines.

INQUEST HELD OVER DROWNED BOY'S BODY

CORONER'S JURY SECONDS THE SUGGESTION OF MAYOR BRINTON REGARDING CABLE.

DIVER FOUND BODY SATURDAY

Instructor at Y. M. C. A. Located the Body of Warren Lally in River on Saturday Afternoon—Was Brought to Surface With Hooks—Jury Returns Verdict of Accidental Drowning.

Saturday afternoon at 4:10 o'clock the body of Warren Lally, the 17-year-old lad whose tragic death on Friday afternoon when he and three others were swept over the dam at Dixon when the propeller of their motor boat refused to turn, stirred all Dixon, was rescued from the river, as was briefly stated in Saturday's Telegraph.

The credit of finding the body is due to Physical Director Parks of the Y. M. C. A. Mr. Parks and Mr. Elssner, superintendent of schools in Sublette, were diving most of the afternoon, until Mr. Parks finally struck with his right shoulder the body as it stood in an almost upright position in twelve or fifteen feet of water at a point several rods above the third pier from the south end of the Galena avenue bridge.

Mr. Parks then notified Sheriff Reid and Mr. Allen, who were in a boat nearby with hooks, and they let their hooks down and made a circle around the spot where the body was said to be, and engaged it the first trip, bringing it to the surface. Mr. Elssner jumped into the water to assist in putting the body in the boat, so there might be no repetition of the accident of Saturday morning, when the body was brought to the surface by a hook but was torn away again by the swift current before it could be gotten into a boat. The body was found not far below the spot where it had been sighted in the morning.

The body, which was clad only in underclothes, was taken ashore and placed in an ambulance and taken to Jones & Slain's undertaking rooms.

Inquest Was Held.
Coroner Smith was notified and came up from Amboy on the evening train. A jury was impaneled consisting of A. E. Simonson, who was made foreman, Edward O'Connor, James Boyer, M. Eberly, Stuart S. Nettz and Geo. B. Shaw.

Three Witnesses.
There were three witnesses called by the jury: John Loftus, H. C. Elssner and Aranda Allen.

Mr. Loftus gave the most important testimony, as he told the whole story of the afternoon's outing, their reasons for being so near the dam, their engine trouble, the going over the dam, the rescue of some of the boys and the sinking of Warren Lally.

Mr. Loftus' testimony was to the effect that the boys, with the exception of Harold Espy, were all at his house for dinner on Friday, the fatal day, and they said they were going to take the launch out. He told them they could not go alone, but that he would go with them. Accordingly they, John Loftus, his son, Will Loftus, Urvan O'Malley and Warren Lally, started out in the launch "Tramp," at about 4:15 p. m. They went nearly to Lowell park and came back without getting out of the boat, and had just pulled into their dock when they noticed that Henry Coe in the Firefly, was drifting dangerously close to the dam with a load of girls. Harold Espy was on the dock and he got into the Tramp to go with the others to the rescue of the Firefly.

When those in the Loftus boat got to the excursion craft the engineer of that boat got her under way and the Firefly started up the river with its load. Mr. Loftus and the boys in the Tramp, seeing that their services were not needed, then threw in their clutch, as the engine was already running, intending to return to the dock but they discovered that the clutch would not take hold. When the party realized their danger they called for help, and two of the boys stripped off their clothing to prepare for the plunge over the dam.

The story of the struggle has been told before. According to Mr. Loftus he first saw Warren Lally jump into the water above the dam, and when he next saw him he was 30 feet below the dam, making a desperate fight to keep afloat in the whirling waters.

Mr. Loftus said that he called: "Keep it up, Warren, somebody will pick you up."

Mr. Loftus' son Will swam to the boat in which his father was, and was pulled in. Mr. Loftus threw a seat from the boat to Urvan O'Malley, and this saved that young man's life, for with the board he was able to keep afloat until Richard Newman could get to him, which the latter did after a hard fight in the strong current with an old boat which threatened to fill and swamp with him before his errand was accomplished.

Mr. Loftus said there was no boat within 75 feet of Warren Lally when he sank for the last time.

The testimony of Mr. Elssner had only to do with the search for and the finding of the body, as was related above.

Mr. Allen told of being at the north end of the bridge at the time of the drowning and gave his version of the sad accident, which corresponded with the others. He also assisted very materially in the search and told of helping the sheriff to pull the body into his boat.

Jury's Verdict.

The jury immediately gave their verdict to the coroner as "Accidental drowning in Rock river at Dixon, Ill., on the afternoon of Friday, June 7, 1912."

The jury also recommended, unofficially, however, that Mayor Brinton's suggestion of a cable stretched across the river a short distance above the dam for the protection of boaters, be adopted. They did not suggest the move in their verdict for the action had already been started by the city official.

Funeral Largely Attended

The funeral of Warren M. Lally was held this morning at 1037 Highland avenue, the home, and later at the Catholic church, Father Foley officiating at the services.

An enormous crowd was present and a large number of those present were fond friends and schoolmates who came to pay their last tribute to the memory of the youth who was beloved by all and whose tragic death and untimely taking has shocked the entire community.

Class Attends in Body.

Both the Junior and Senior classes of the Dixon high school attended the funeral in a body and as they marched they carried wreaths which they later placed upon the grave. The young man was a member of last year's Junior class and would have graduated next year had he lived.

The Dixon Stars, a baseball organization, of which he was a member, also sent a very beautiful offering and attended the funeral in a body. Interment took place at Oakwood cemetery.

TWO YOUNG LADIES HELD UP LAST NIGHT

MISS BESSIE BLACKBURN WAS VICTIM OF PURSE SNATCHER ON GALENA AVENUE.

JOHN BROOKS IS ACCUSED

Quick Action of Fremont and Police Officer Ends in Arrest of Men From Near Grand Detour—Purse and Contents Found on Him and Identified by Miss Blackburn—Miss Bessie Cahill Was With Her—Hearing Continued.

John Brooks, a young man who has been employed on the Warren Brooks farm near Oak Ridge, was arraigned before Justice A. H. Hanneken this morning charged with burglary, the charge being preferred by Miss Bessie Blackburn. His hearing was continued until Thursday afternoon at 1:30, on motion of his attorney, C. C. Brooks, and he was placed under bonds of $200 until that time. His bonds were furnished by a brother-in-law.

Stole Girl's Purse.

Brooks, according to the information against him, stole Miss Blackburn's purse, containing 40 cents and some street car tickets, while she was on her way home at about 10:30 Sunday evening in company with Miss Bessie Cahill.

The young ladies were walking south on the west side of Galena avenue when, at a dark place between Fifth and Sixth street, Brooks crossed the street from the east side, stepped up in front of the girls and before they could ascertain his intentions he had grabbed Miss Blackburn's purse and started to run south with it.

Police Are Notified.

The ladies immediately ran the rest of the way to the Blackburn home, Galena avenue and Ninth street, and called the fire department and notified Fire Chief Coffey of the robbery, asking him to notify an officer.

They furnished a good description of the fellow and the contents of the purse and as Mr. Coffey started down Galena avenue to find Officer Winters he saw the fellow walking ahead of him. Simultaneously he called to the policeman and the fellow was at once arrested.

Found Purse and Money.

He denied any implication in the hold-up, but on being searched the purse and money were found in his clothing. He claimed the purse belonged to his sister, but Miss Blackburn has identified it positively as her property.

The young fellow when arraigned this morning retained C. C. Brooks as his attorney, and on motion of that lawyer, the hearing was continued to Thursday.

BURGLAR ENTERED SNYDER RESIDENCE

BUT WAS FRIGHTENED OFF BEFORE HE ACCOMPLISHED HIS PURPOSE—DOG HASTENS HIS FOOTSTEPS.

A burglar forced the front door of the Ben Snyder residence on East First street last evening and had already made his way inside when he heard the approach of Jake Snyder, who lives with his parents, and took fright, running from the porch across into Bluff park.

His trip through the park was not at all pleasant, for he was discovered by a large dog owned by Mr. Mowry in the park and the dog, who apparently resented the interruption to his star-gazing, gave the marauder a hot chase.

Her address to the graduating class in the Presbyterian church last Thursday evening was a memorable one, and cannot fail to make a lasting impression. ## ROOSEVELT SEES PARTY IN REVOLT

Says Contest Decisions Like Alabama One Will Make Nomination Worthless.

MAKES ATTACK ON COMMITTEE

Colonel Declares That He Does Not Consider "Theft" Is a Test of Regularity—Partial Text of Ex-President's Statement.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 10.—Reputation by the Republican voters of the nomination made by the Republican national convention if made by votes of delegates seated as those from the Ninth Alabama district was predicted here by Colonel Roosevelt. The prediction, which was taken by some as the first threat of a bolt that has been made directly by Colonel Roosevelt, was made in a statement issued by him after a long conference.

Colonel Roosevelt's statement was given out after a conference which lasted many hours. He was in constant touch over his private wires during the day with Senator Dixon and his other lieutenants in Chicago. He also consulted with a number of his supporters who visited him.

Text of Statement.

Colonel Roosevelt's statement is in part as follows: "In view of the action taken by the national committee in unseating the two duly elected delegates in the Ninth Alabama district, and replacing them by men who have no more title to sit in the Republican convention than they have to sit in the Democratic convention, I would like to make as serious an appeal as is in my power to every good citizen who regards the Republican party as an instrument for good government, which it is wickedly light to destroy."

"Alabama is entitled to 24 delegates in the convention. As regards several of the districts where there have been contests it, if my sincere belief that the right was as much on our side as on the side of our opponents. But in these districts there was room for honest doubt, and talking the matter over with Senator Dixon we both agreed to advise the Roosevelt members of the national committee to support no contest in any district where there was room for reasonable doubt as to the right of the Roosevelt delegates to be seated.

Claim on a Par.

"Accordingly, in all the Alabama districts in question the Roosevelt men in the national committee voted with the majority and this, in spite of the fact that, as I have already said, we regard the claims of the Roosevelt men in certain of these districts as being as good as those of their opponents.

"But in the Ninth Alabama district two Roosevelt delegates had been unquestionably elected.

"Yet the national committeemen who are supporting Mr. Taft voted to unseat the two men properly elected.

"They represent nothing whatever in the Republican party except the determination of certain members of the national committee, who have themselves been repudiated by the Republican party, that the majority of the party shall not be permitted to decide whom they wish to be the nominee for president.

Nomination as Worthless.

"A nomination obtained by the votes of delegates seated in utter defiance of justice, as these two Alabama delegates have just been seated, must be worthless to the man obtaining it and would be indignantly repudiated by the party as a whole.

"Every man who wishes to see the Republican party continue to exist should at once protest against those who are deliberately attempting to wreck it. The leaders talk as if they were the regular Republicans. I don't concede that theft is a test of regularity."

TAX SALE TODAY.

County Treasurer Vaughan this morning began the annual delinquency tax sale, but because of the small number of pieces offered for sale the crowd attending was not as large as in former years. The meeting of the board of supervisors this afternoon made a continuance of the sale necessary. Tomorrow Judge Scott will listen to the arguments in the objection cases in which he heard evidence last Friday.

SPECIAL PATROL.

Geo. F. Stainbrook, former sheriff of Lee county, and W. H. Woodyatt, ex-chief of police, have been appointed special patrolmen to assist the regular force during the Home Coming week.

LARGEST MAP IN THE WORLD

It is Intended to Show Every Building in London—Is 580 Feet Square.

London.—If all goes well and there are no serious delays, three or four years hence the London county council will have completed what it is believed will be the most wonderful map in the world. Seventeen years have already been consumed in its preparation and $85,000 has been expended on research and labor connected with it. A further expenditure of about $25,000 is looked forward to with equanimity by the authorities.

The great map will really constitute a twentieth-century London edition of England's famous Domesday Book. For it will show practically every building in the 116 square miles that go to make up greater London, setting forth, as far as possible, the most important owners.

It has often been said that London was owned by a few great landlords, such as the Duke of Westminster, Lord Howard de Walden, Lord Cadogan, the Duke of Bedford and the Duke of Norfolk. That is, of course, true in a general way, but this map shows that there are no fewer than 36,600 private owners who each possess enough property to make a notable showing on its face.

The map will not be issued to the public, but is really being prepared for the use of the county council itself. It is being drawn to the scale of five square feet to the square mile, so that the completed map, which, of course, will be made in sections, will measure 580 feet by 580 feet, or 1-82d of a square mile in area.

Evil of Worrying.
By constant worry the power of self-control is lost. The ability to be cheerful, courageous and sometimes even interesting, is gradually undermined. Eventually this affects the health, the appetite is banished and the digestion and probably the heart affected. The unhappiness shows in the face. ### TAFTS ARE IMPERILED

Yacht Mayflower Nearly Collides With Northland.
President and Wife Were Aboard Former Vessel at Time of Near Accident.

Old Point Comfort, Va., June 10.—A collision between the presidential yacht Mayflower, carrying President and Mrs. Taft and a party of guests, and the steamer Northland of the Norfolk and Washington line, was narrowly averted near Old Point Comfort.

The Northland, which left Washington shortly after the Mayflower decided to pass her in Chesapeake bay, and whistled that she wished to go ahead on the yacht's port side. The Mayflower whistled that she wished the Northland to pass on the starboard side. A few minutes later the Mayflower began to cross the Northland's bow, to the amazement of the officers of the latter vessel. The Northland's wheel was thrown hard over and her engines slowed down. The Mayflower crossed her path at a distance of less than a thousand feet. Mayflower then slowed down and the Northland passed.

$1,100 FOR PIGEON EGGS

Money Offers of Last Year Repeated Hopes Entertained That the Bird Is Not Extinct.

Milwaukee.—Rewards aggregating $1,100 are available for Wisconsin bird lovers if they find an undisturbed nest of a pair of the nearly extinct passenger pigeon. In a pamphlet issued recently by Prof. C. F. Hodge, Clark University, northeastern Wisconsin is designated as "the most likely spot on the continent" for the finding of the specimens.

The object of the rewards, which are offered to bird lovers in every state of the Union, is to determine whether or not the species has become entirely extinct. The rewards were offered last year, but despite exhaustive investigation, not a single reward was claimed. Many nestlings were reported, but they were all found to be either doves or mourning pigeons.

The wild or passenger pigeon always nests in trees, generally ten or more feet from the ground, and lays but one egg. In case any of the species are found the finder is requested to communicate at once with Prof. C. F. Hodge, giving exactly the date, hour, number in flock and direction of flight. As soon as the report can be confirmed the reward will be forwarded.

DIXON SHUT OUT BY FORRESTON

SCORE OF 5 TO 0 TELLS PATHETIC TALE—FORRESTON PITCHER HAD SUPPORT.

CONCRETE MIXER WAS TO BLAME

Huber Pitched Good Ball But Had Poor Support—Forreston Man Pitched Wonderful Ball and Had Excellent Support.

One Mr. Freezman and his eight teammates were too much for the Dixon Browns yesterday and a crowd of fans at Athletic park saw the tall twirler shut the locals out, while his fellows were making five runs. Dame Fortune assisted the visitors in a number of places, but their superior work in every department, especially with their heads, made it certain after the fifth that they would win.

Mr. Freezman is reported to be a concrete mixer, which probably accounts for the fact that he could mix 'em with such great talent yesterday. He mixed the fast with the slow and the curve with the groover with a plausible skill, while his assistants backed him up with work of merit.

First in Third.
For three innings neither side scored and up until the fourth Forreston had not gotten a hit off Huber, who by way of contrast, fanned all three Forrestons who faced him in the third. In the meantime Dixon had accumulated two hits, one in the first by H. Woodyatt and another in the third by Gus Heft.

Mr. Heft started the third with a shot into right, and he went to second when Stuh Woodyatt grounded out to first. Huber leaned against one with commendable intentions, and the pellet started for deep center. Mr. Kudze, playing that position for the visitors, while admiring Huber's effort, did not wish to let the ball get away from him. Furthermore by exhibiting some clever high jumping he pulled the ball down and before Mr. Heft knew what had happened he was doubled up at second. That was the nearest Dixon came to scoring.

The Forrestons got their first one in the third and Huber's pass was responsible. He walked Cease, first gentleman to face him, and that worthy personage walked quietly to second when Major Kirk let a wide one get away from him. The stuff was off a minute later when Mr. Kudze who was a most active young man during the game, punched a safe one to center. Mr. Cease shaking hands with Major Kirk as he came home. Calan and Ruthe fled out to second and first respectively.

Avantale in Eighth.
The concrete mixer and his teammates sealed up the business in the eighth, with a mixture of hits and good base running, said mixture being about three parts hits to one part base running—a very good consistency as it were.

And, sad but true, the runs were scored after two were down. Freezman struck out for the first out. Skinner waited while Huber was trying to locate the plate, and as a result of his talented waiting he was allowed to go see Mr. Devine without interference. He did not tarry long with Mr. Devine, however, but beat it to see Stuh when Calan sacrificed him along. The game and a man on second.

Mr. Grant didn't wish to be called down by his manager for stooping the rally, so he binged one on the snoot, and said snoot went into left center safely and swiftly. Mr. Skinner crossed the rubber on the snoot. Kudze kept up his activity by putting up a high one which Messrs. Devine, Huber and Woodyatt gathered around, watching with evident admiration its aerial twirling, for they allowed it to fall safe. Mr. Grant got off first, registering at Major Kirk's station, Kudze pulling up at second on the throw in. At this stage of the plot Mr. Calan inserted himself skillfully by putting one down the left field foul line, which said one went clear to the river. Mr. Calan beat it around the sacks manfully, and beat the ball home. Ruthe fouled out to Devine. Net result of inning: 4 runs. Total score: Forreston 5; Dixon 0.

Double play—Kudze to Cavanaugh. Passed ball—Major Kirk. Time of game—1:25. Umpire—Valle.

Notes of the Game.
Huber pitched a peach of a game all the way, but his poor support, and lack of noodlework shown by his teammates must have discouraged him greatly. In the second he fanned three men as fast as they could get to the plate.
Hillicker had an awful day in the field and at bat. In the fifth after missing Major Kirk's throw to catch Grant at second, he failed to go after the pill, which had started rolling toward third, and the visitor's speedy shortstop immediately took third.

The double play in the third was a peach. Kudze made a peach of a running catch to get Huber's long fly, and his peg to Cavanaugh was so fast and true that Heft had absolutely no time to get back.

The Forreston center fielder duplicated his great catch in the sixth, when he tore in and robbed Huber of another hit. His peg to first was wild, or he would have fanned in another double, for Woodyatt was nearly to second when the catch was made.

But fifteen men faced Freezman in the first five innings, and in only three innings did more than three come to bat. The summary shows that with the one base on balls he issued and the sacrifice hit by Devine a total of but 27 men—3 per inning—were scored a time at bat.

Government Exercises Strict Censorship Over Dress Worn by Men and Women at Balls.

The perils of wearing fancy costumes in Russia because of government censorship are many. In one city, says the Anglo-Russian, the police ejected two persons from a fancy dress ball that took place in a local theater for wearing "improper" fancy dresses. One of them was supposed to represent Illiodor, the monk of ill-famed reputation, who was upheld as a saint by the champions of the black hundred, wearing on his breast the mark of an interrogation instead of the cross. The other represented a well filled sack bearing the inscription, "Famine Year for Merchants," and "10,000,000,000." An empty bag which was held in one hand had the inscription, "A prosperous year for the peasants," and "0,000,000,000."

Dressed Up as a Carrot.

At Tshchobok on a similar occasion two women were fined 75 rubles each, one for wearing a fancy dress which was supposed to represent her as "the young constitution in chains;" the other for being dressed up as a carrot, which was supposed to represent the famine in eastern and central Russia.

NOVEL EXPERIMENT FOR BOYS

Beard Placed Loosely on Table Covered by Newspaper Not as Easy to Dislodge as Imagined.

Take an ordinary board, 2 or 3 ft. long, such as a bread board, and place it on the table so that about one-third of its length will project over the edge. Unfold a newspaper and lay it on the table over the board as shown in the sketch. Anyone not familiar with the experiment would suppose the board could be knocked off by hitting it on the outer end. It would appear to be easy to do, but try it. Unless you are prepared to break the board you will probably not be able to knock the board off.

This reason is that when the board is struck it forces the other end up and the newspaper along with it. This causes a momentary vacuum to be formed under the paper, and the pressure of the air above, which is about 15 lb. to the square inch, prevents the board from coming up. This is an entertaining trick to play at an evening party, and also makes a simple and interesting school experiment.

ORIGIN OF AN ANCIENT GAME

Inventors of Interesting Pastime of Dominoes Were Monks in Famous Abbey at Monte Casino.

The inventors of the interesting game of dominoes were two monks in the famous abbey at Monte Casino in Italy. One day the inmates of the convent were on the lookout for a method of beguiling their leisurely moments without transgressing the rule of silence to which they were subject. Two of their number hit upon the device of playing with square stones covered with dots, which they showed to each other and combined in an order agreed upon. The winner communicated the result to his partner by pronouncing in a low voice the lines of the vespers, which commence as follows: "Dixit Dominus domino meo."

The game soon became a favorite, not only within the walls of monasteries, but outside, also. People with only scanty knowledge of Latin simplified the monastic formula, only retaining the word "domino," and the game is still known by that name.

That Caught Them.

The newest service rendered by monkeys to mankind, says an English paper, was recently illustrated in London. In one of the school districts too many parents reported no children in their families and in order to ascertain

HOME HEALTH CLUB.

By Dr. David H. Reede La Porte, Indiana.

CATARRH—Nearly all persons on this continent, especially in the northern part of it, are more or less afflicted with catarrh, constantly or at intervals. It is generally supposed to be a cold in the head, particularly in the nasal passages, and usually it is, but catarrh frequently attacks the stomach, bowels or other organs or membrane.

You will see advertised hundreds of cures for catarrh. Mostly they are gotten up to cure the flatness of some body's pocketbook or to increase the financial receipts of a drug factory.

Remove the cause or causes first, then take the simple treatment that will be here advised, and the catarrh will be removed. Breathe only through the nose. That was made for it. Avoid draughts while indoors. Do not go out in the cold or damp from a warm room, insufficiently clothed. That is to say, with less clothing than usual when out of doors. In short, be sensible about caring for warmth in weather that is liable to give you sudden chilliness. It is not necessary to be a molly-coddle. Simply and ceaselessly take care of yourself in a rational way.

Catarrh is an abnormal discharge from the mucous membrane, wherever in the anatomy the membrane is located. When the discharge is suspended the catarrh is also. When the affliction is long continued and becomes virulent, inflammation results, the discharges become viscid and thick and breathing through the nostrils is seriously interfered with. Then the mouth breathing habit is contracted and that increases the danger, not only by increasing the catarrh, but when it is catarrh of the nasal passages—which it generally is—the viscid substances, which have now become malignantly poisonous, are crowded through the weakened nasal chamber and descending infect the lungs or stomach and consumption of the lungs, stomach or portions of the alimentary canal often result.

Long standing cases of catarrh are exceedingly obstinate and generally nothing will cure them except the action's removal to a mild climate, where catarrh is unknown, or the adoption and faithful practice for a sufficient length of time, of the method that follows. Many other remedies give good results temporarily, but no permanent relief. This thing that has been so long a time reaching the deep-seated stage of catarrh, is tenacious and it takes a long time to cure it under any circumstances. Practice this and you will get well in reasonable time:

Stand erect. Push upward with the head, downward with the hands. This lifts the vital organs properly. Inhale to the fullest through the nose. Tiptoe slightly and you will get more air. Hold the air while you can count ten, mentally, and contract the muscles of the throat, as you would clench your fist, tensely as possible. Now relax the throat and exhale slowly, through the nostrils. The hot, moist air will warm the nasal chamber. Repeat this ten times, unless you grow dizzy; if you do, cease instantly. Practice before retiring and upon arising next day. After about a week of this increase the counting time to fifteen, then to twenty, thirty or even more. Cease always at the first sign of dizziness and proceed more gradually. After the exercises throw back your head until you can see an object directly over you on the ceiling. Hold the breath, sink slowly down; only a few inches at first; repeat not more than four times. After you have learned the trick of it you may sink down as far as possible and keep your equilibrium. When you have returned to the perpendicular, exhale the breath slowly through the nostrils.

Wash the nostrils with cold water and a perceptible quantity of acetic acid or listerine, in spray or with a feather or camel's hair brush, and draw the wash into the nasal chamber by insufflation. No harm will follow if the wash trickles down into the throat, as listerine is simply a disinfectant.

Club Notes.

Dear Doctor—

I have been an interested reader of the Home Health Club and enjoy your lectures very much. I would like your advice in regard to my case. The doctors here tell me I am suffering from cirrhosis of the liver. What is it and is there any cure for it? This winter I had a very bad spell of sickness, with severe pain in right side, almost killing me. It seemed to be in the region of the gall duct. I feel very much worried about it and would like to know your opinion. Respectfully,

H. M.

Cirrhosis of the liver is generally known as "hobnailed liver" and is the result of chronic inflammation of the connective tissue of the liver and destruction of the secreting cells of that organ. It is slow in developing and gives rise to various functional disturbances. Indigestion, heartburn, belchings, coated tongue, constipation and occasional vomiting are prominent signs. The liver gradually diminishes in size and the skin becomes first pale and then decidedly sallow, dry and harsh. Strength and flesh are lost rapidly, the abdomen becomes distended and dropsy is apparent. Difficulty of breathing and palpitation and hemorrhages from the bowels occur in advanced stages. Tea, coffee, alcohol and spices must be forbidden; the patient should not be allowed to become constipated. Hot fomentations as advised in the Home Health Club books for inflammation of the liver should be applied when there is pain. The vegetable herb remedy, Compound Gentian, would be excellent for a tonic. The diet must be very light and bathing frequent. An abundance of fresh air should always be allowed. However, you should first of all adopt the specific directions which I gave you in a private letter which will, I believe, arrest the progress of the disease and restore you to health.

SECRETARY ROSE'S DEATH

For almost sixteen years James A. Rose served the people of Illinois as secretary of state. They had signified by popular primary election their approval of that service, and they were about to re-elect him when his death occurred. It brought to a close a career unique in the history of Illinois politics.

Much will be said and written of the life and work of Mr. Rose, but nothing will be quite so eloquently convincing as his successive election, term after term, to the office he filled at the time of his death. Nothing will so surely impress future generations with his remarkable popularity as the vote he received in the recent republican primary, when, for a fifth time, he received the nomination of his party with a hearty assurance of success at the November election.

Secretary Rose had a wonderful hold on the people of Illinois and he deserved it. When he first arrived in Springfield he was known only to the section of the state designated as Egypt, where he had modestly but efficiently performed the duties of superintendent of school and state's attorney for Pope county. There he was affectionately referred to as "Zan" Rose and was esteemed for his worth but in the state at large he had yet to make his way. He did it by giving to the public the best that was in his well trained, resourceful mind and by making himself indispensable as an official. Under his direction the secretary of state's office became a model for the country.

Coupled with his ability as an official Secretary Rose brought to his office a personality which is seldom encountered among active men of affairs. He was never too busy to assist those who sought his help—never so thoroughly engrossed that he could not look after the business of the little fellows. His uniform courtesy and kindly disposition soon made him "Zan" Rose to all Illinois as well as the folks down in Pope county.

Memory of James A. Rose will endure in this commonwealth. The future will know him as a successful politician and an official who brought the secretary of state's office to a high grade of public usefulness. We of this generation will ever remember him as a warm-hearted, companionable man—an ideal citizen and a good neighbor.

A MOUNTAIN HIS MEMORIAL

A mountain as a memorial to Gen. Walter Harriman, governor of New Hampshire from 1867 to 1869, has been given to the state by his son-in-law, Joseph Lesson of Newton, Massachusetts.

The memorial, to be known as the Walter Harriman Reservation, includes Stewart Mink Hill, 1800 feet high, and an extensive tract of land around it. The summit of the hill has a 50 mile view of White Mountain scenery, and the slopes are covered with picturesque timber growth and meadows. The state will utilize the reservation for the study and teaching of forestry. It will be open to the public.

THE RETURN OF THE MARKET BASKET.

The old oaken bucket no longer may greet us,
For science has robbed it of half of its charm,
But once more economy brings forth to meet us
The old market basket that hung on the arm.

How sweet to behold it with grub overflowing

Though far from the place that its owner may dwell,
And oh, how ecstatic it is to be knowing

Its fatness will fatten our purses as well.

But here is a question with import deep laden,

For it is a phase we must view with alarm,

Will men on the cars give up seats to the maiden

Whose bl' market basket is hung on her arm?

RIGHTS OF THE CHILD.

A shopkeeper in New York, annoyed by the continued depredations of street urchins, caught one of them, a boy four years old, tied him to a pipe in his store and beat him with a piece of rubber tubing.

The child was rescued by a man who broke into the store on hearing the boy's cries. The storekeeper was arrested. When he was taken before a judge the latter was shocked at the prisoner's brutality and announced that before sentencing the man he'd like to have some opinion from the public as to what punishment should be meted out to a man who had beaten a little child as this man had done.

The judge got expressions of opinion; many people wrote letters to him. And with this startling result—that a great proportion of the letters asked the judge to be lenient with the prisoner on the ground that the actions of the children who play in the streets of New York are such as to drive a person to desperation and madness.

Writer after writer frankly said that there seems to be thousands of children running about in that city who are simply little devils. They attack and maltreat aged people they commit every conceivable depredation that their childish minds can suggest. Many keepers of small shops wrote that their lives had been made miserable by the unceasing malefactions of children and that they could readily appreciate the state of frenzy possessing the man who beat the boy.

What a ghastly picture to be set in the frame that we call civilization! Children, little children, the supposed embodiment of all innocence, gentleness and beauty, portrayed as little fiends. It seems too horrible to be true, but the letters were from too many people, and from too many ranks of society to allow any doubt of the truth of the conditions they set forth.

Who shall be arraigned at the bar of justice for this previous state of affairs? The children God pity them; poor, neglected, warped, ignorant little beings, who know not what they do. It is the parents who sow the seed for this ugly harvest—the parents who for their own selfish gratification bring into the world creat-

The Boy Scouts of Montevideo, Minneapolis, have arranged a system of jury trials for the fellow scouts who are accused of any wrong doing. Joseph E. It was decided that if a scout break the Scout Law he should have a trial by jury and can be suspended or put on parole for a bit of time."

TRAGEDY OF THE STAGE

An elderly actor said, in despair, to a theatrical agent one day.

"Is there nothing you can do for me? I've hung around your office, out of work, for eight months now."

The agent as he polished his diamond rim, with his red silk handkerchief answered thoughtfully:

"Look here. Bring yourself up to date. The turkey trot is all the go. You train some animal or bird to do the turkey trot with you and I'll get you on one of the circuits at a three-figured salary."

The old actor, says the St. Louis Globe Democrat, thanked the agent gratefully He bought an ostrich from a retired circus man and after a lot of hard work he taught the bird to do the turkey trot with him splendidly. Then he reported to the agent again.

But the agent, for all his promises, had nothing to offer. The poor fellow turned up every day for awhile, then every other day, then each third day; but there was nothing doing and at last a week went by without appearance at the agent's office.

Then the agent sent for him and said:

"Well, I've fixed you up at last. I've booked you for that turn of yours at—" But the old actor interrupted sadly. "It's too late now," he said.

"Too late! How is it too late?" the agent asked.

"I've had to eat my partner," muttered the old actor.

OUTING CAMPS.

Outing camps are becoming very popular in the west, and great areas of mountain land, formerly not salable, are being broken up for this purpose. In Oklahoma 14,000 acres of the unallotted Indian lands, mostly mountainous, were lately sold and found ready purchasers at prices that ranged from 25 cents to $5 per acre.

TERRIBLE COST FOR PROTECTION

Writer to Telegraph Asks That Mayor Brinton's Suggestion Be Carried Out—No Boat Should Go Between Island and Dam—Anchors and Life Preservers Should Be Required.

Editor Telegraph:

The suggestion of Mayor Brinton, in your Saturday issue, respecting precautions against the recurrence of such perilous situations as resulted in the drowning of Warren Lally, should immediately receive recognition and result in prompt action. The needless sacrifice of only one priceless life should be sufficient to awaken the community to a realization of its responsibility to see to it that at least the simple safeguards which common sense would readily prescribe should be employed to avoid such calamities. Offerings of human life seem to be the price exacted by the busy world for putting up the convenient bars which conscience, un-stirred by calamity, should demand.
In this instance the price has been paid in the life of a fine young man;
action has been purchased at a terrible cost, and now let us have results before the toll is doubled or quadrupled, as might easily have been the case here, for, according to your account of the occurrence, a boat load of girls was for a time in a position as perilous as that which sent the young men over the dam.

As proposed by the mayor, a cable should be maintained a suitable distance above the dam; lights should be required on all boats, rowboats as well as power boats, and all boats, no matter what their power or size, should be compelled to carry anchors of such pattern and size as should meet the approval of a competent judge having the authority of an inspector. Life preservers should also be carried to the extent permitted by the craft.

Moreover, no power boat should be permitted to cross the river between the island and the dam. The passenger boats in particular are addicted to this habit. The experience of the boat of Friday with its load of girls illustrates the danger of this route.
Better not to sacrifice lives for time,
as the Titanic of horrible memory did.

Let those who employ the passenger boats refuse to patronize a boat that takes the danger route, and the practice will soon disappear.

There is no occasion to be panicky over the experience Friday of the five young men and their launch. Gasoline engines have their well-recognized and apparently unavoidable faults and every boat should be provided with means of safety if the engine
"quits." The danger is nothing if the boat is kept away from the draw of the dam, and a suitable anchor is at hand.

ANGRY WOMAN WHIPS A CAR CONDUCTOR

Denied the Last Word in an Ar-

Wields Her Umbrella.

LAYS HIM PROSTRATE

Fortunately for the Fare Collector, a Policeman Who Was Riding on the Front Platform of the Car Came to His Rescue
in Time.

Chicago.—The rash attempt of an unmarried and unsophisticated street car conductor to have the last word with a small married woman passenger the other afternoon resulted in the usual way.

A big policeman interfered in time to save an ambulance call. And then the man who "got licked" sought solace by causing the little woman's arrest on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Mrs. Isabella Friesea, wife of Max Friesea, 3937 North Leavitt street, is the belligerent housewife. James L.
Morris, 3437 North Claremont avenue, is the conductor.

It was about 5 o'clock that Mrs.
Friesea, in haste to go home to get supper, alighted from an Irving boulevard car and brushed into a waiting Ashland avenue car south bound. Other passengers crowded her and she was seated when the conductor entered and told her that her transfer was worthless because it was punched "north bound." She said she was not responsible for the other conductor's mistake, refused to pay a nickel, and told the conductor to retire to the rear platform and attend to business.

General attention was attracted through the conductor shouting "It ain't no good" over and over again, while she replied "yes 'tis" just as fast.

Unable to get the last word—a woman's inalienable right—she finally slammed him across the face with her umbrella. Morris says he "only defended himself," but the passengers saw little evidence of defense as he lay prostrate on the floor after one particularly stinging swipe across the left ear. While down she poked him in the ribs with the weapon. Morris' lip was cut and bleeding and his right eye was badly swollen when the last inventory was taken.

Fortunately for Morris, Policeman
L. Griebenof, riding on the front platform, had been attracted by the shrieks of women. None but the policeman had the courage to pull the little fighter away.

"Serves him right for trying to tell my wife her business," remarked Friesea, as he led the prisoner from the station. When asked if he would appear with his wife in court Friesea said: "No, indeed; she's able to look after herself."

Breaks Off Tusks.

New York.—In a fit of pique, Congo,
"the only dwarf elephant in captivity," disfigured himself in the Bronx zoo.
The day being fine, all the elephants except Congo were permitted to go into the yard outside the elephant house. He had been showing signs of bad temper recently.

No sooner were the keepers out of the building than he braced his hind feet against the rear brick wall, while he began to saw and hammer the iron railing at the front of the stall with his tusks.

His ivory adornments are exquisitely proportioned, elephant men say, and prove that he is a real dwarf, since they are in distinct size relation to the rest of his body. Before the keepers knew what he had done Congo had broken off eight inches of ivory from one tusk and ten from the other. Then the keepers tied up his head. The stumps of the tusks will be capped.

Music's Charm.

hasty verdict here. The jurors found band instruments in the jury room and after several selections, returned a

High Price for Rare Etching.

Collectors of etchings and engravings must occasionally pay high prices for their treasures. A Rembrandt print, "Jan Sylvius," signed by the artist and dated 1646, brought at auction recently $1,625.

Good Breeding.

We see a world of pains taken, and the best years of life spent, in collecting a set of thoughts in a college for the conduct of life; and, after all, the man so qualified shall hesitate in his speech to a good suit of clothes and want common sense before an agreeable woman. Hence it is that wisdom, valor, justice and learning cannot keep a man in countenance that is possessed with these excellencies, if he wants that inferior art of life and behavior called good breeding.—Steele.

We Guarantee It A Wayne (Penn.) Man Writes This

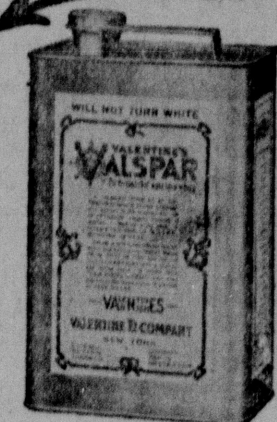

Wayne, Pa., December 20, 1910

Valentine & Co., New York
Gentlemen—I wish to say a good word in reference to Valspar. I have used this varnish in October, 1907, on extreme outside work where it was not protected from anything. This month we went back to same job and gave it one coat, finding this was all that was required as there was plenty of body still left, only dead here and there.

I have tried all kinds of outside varnish here before, but must say this is the best of all.

I know there cannot be too much said about such an article, and I also know there are plenty of men looking for such varnish, but don't know where to find it. I shall never buy another as long as it remains what it is and hope many more will find out the good results it gives. I remain yours very truly,

R. S. LUCKENBILL.

THE STRIKE.

Origin of the Word in Labor Disputes and Its History.

The earliest use of the word strike in the sense of stopping work occurs in the London Chronicle for September, 1765, in connection with a coal strike. This publication reports a great suspension of labor in Northumberland coalfields and the colliers are stated to have "struck out" for a higher bounty before entering into their usual yearly bond. The time-honored illustration appears to have received its first slap in the fact during this strike. The Chronicle reports that several pokes of coal were taken from Durham to Newcastle by one of the common carriers and sold on the sandhill for 9d a poke, by which he cleared 6d a poke.

EXTRAVAGANT COMMENCEMENT

In an article in the May Women's Home Companion it is stated that nearly every high school commencement great extravagance is indulged in. In a good many parts of the country efforts are being made to reduce the amount of money spent for these occasions. A high school in New York city, for example, last year kept the average cost to $1 each, and this year it proposes to reduce it to 80c. A good many obstacles are confronted, however, by those who undertake to preach economy. Following is an interesting extract from the article in point:

"For illustration, in Xenia, O., there was a determined effort to have the graduation gowns simple and inexpensive. The school board, the teachers, and the well-to-do mothers were delighted. Most of the class favored white pique skirts and middie blouses, but one girl objected to this plain costume.

"At commencement she appeared in a lovely gown and with loads of flowers. As her sister explained, she was 'hand-embroidered, all thru.' In a mull dress, messaline slip, silk slippers she was far away the best dressed girl in her class. And her mother makes her living over the wash tub.

"They also tried to bring reform in the high school commencement in Miamishburg, O., last year, but one of the girls held out against it, with the support of an older sister. The reformers tried to reason with the sister, who was perfectly frank about it:

"We are a family of school teachers," she explained. "Emily is the youngest, but it will be just the same with her. Five of us have never married, but have gone on with the grind year after year. We never have worn a wedding dress, and never will I wear a linen suit to graduate in, and I have felt cheated ever since. Emily shall have the prettiest and most elaborate we can make for her."

DEMOCRATS ARE BUSY

Fifth Regiment Armory at Baltimore Ready for Use.

Chairman Mack and Secretary Woodson Have Arrived—Senator-Elect James May Open Convention.

Baltimore, Md., June 10.—The Fifth Regiment armory, spick and span with artistically designed decorations, all completed for the Democratic national convention, was turned over formally to the officers of the national committee today. The acoustics were tested, as well as the telegraph equipment, and all pronounced to be all that could be desired.

This morning Sergeants-at-Arms John I. Martin was joined here by Chairman Norman E. Mack and Secretary Urooy Woodson, with several other members of the national committee and preparations for the big powwow was begun immediately. The latest interesting rumor is that Senator Ollie James of Kentucky is being considered for the temporary chairmanship.

Tomorrow a meeting is to be held at which the appointments of subordinate officials and employees will be considered. Doorkeepers, ushers, assistant sergeants-at-arms, messengers and pages must be named, and as the demands for these places are legion, the committee will have a time of it satisfying the members of the national committee who demand a share of the patronage. The committee must also assign the tickets. The attendance in and out of the convention will, it is believed, break all records. The demand for tickets is driving the local committee nearly crazy.

23 SINK IN SUBMARINE

French Battleship St. Louis Rams the Vendemiaire.

Smaller Craft Appears Under Ship's Bow So Suddenly Larger Is Unable to Avert Crash.

Cherbourg, June 10.—France suffered another marine disaster and lost her fourth submarine when the Vendemiaire, in mimic warfare off Cherbourg peninsula, was crushed down by the battleship Saint Louis and disappeared in 150 feet of water with the 23 members of her crew.

The submarine undoubtedly was ripped apart by the steel prow of the battleship and all hope has been abandoned of saving the crew.

An official statement issued by the minister of marine fixes the number of men aboard as 23, including the commander, Lieutenant Prioul, and Ensign Audin.

Although a board of inquiry was immediately appointed, it is said that no blame attaches to the Saint Louis, as the Vendemiaire came to the surface directly under the battleship's bow.

HAVE CLEW TO LOST HEIRESS

Search Prosecuted in Munich for Miss Dorothy Arnold of New York.

Munich.—The search for the missing New York heiress, Miss Dorothy Arnold, who disappeared from her home a year ago last December, has now centered here in the Bavarian capital, after having extended over the greater part of southern Europe as well as all of America.

The police here have located Miss Arnold's uncle, Gustav Arnold, a wealthy retired real estate dealer living at 34 Frederickstrasse. From his extreme unwillingness to aid them the police believe he knows something concerning the missing girl's whereabouts.

It has been ascertained by the investigators that the parents of Dorothy Arnold visited Gustav Arnold early last autumn—it is believed in September—and since then the old man has refused even to grant the police an interview.

The director of the detective bureau is convinced that the uncle is in communication with Miss Arnold, or at least knows where she is, and has given orders to keep a constant watch over Gustav Arnold's home.

SEEING THE ECLIPSE

Moon's Passage Across Sun Watched in Holland.

Weather Ideal for Event—Neither Animal Nor Plant Life Was Affected In the Least by Midday Gloom and Cold.

The Hague, Holland.—Whether the Dutch astronomers have succeeded in solving the problems set themselves with regard to the sun and moon will only be known when all the photographs taken in the eclipse camp in Limburg have been developed and studied and the numerous observations then taken have all been worked out. The weather, every one admitted, was entirely favorable, so that a wealth of material was gathered.

One of the important tasks of the astronomers was to try to obtain data from which to determine the exact position and exact diameter of the moon. For that purpose they stationed observers at five different places.

At each of the points chosen two telescopes were erected on firm stone foundations—one for direct ocular observations, the other for projecting the phenomenon on a screen, on which could be followed the whole course of the sun and moon while in conjunction.

The sky was ideal for observing the eclipse.

As for myself, I had chosen the open fields for taking observations. There it would be possible to note how birds, animals and plants comport themselves; for very conflicting stories are told of fear manifested by some creatures or of birds going to roost and of flowers closing their petals in sleep.

Exact to the half minute the sun began to show an indentation at the lower right hand side of the disk, but no dimming of the warmth of its rays could yet be felt. Not until the moon had covered more than half of the sun was it appreciably colder. But at the critical moment, when only one-twentieth part of the sun's disk remained, like the sickle of a golden new moon, the air became very cold.

At the moment of greatest intensity of eclipse the light effect over the landscape was peculiar. It was somewhat like a very bright moonlight night, only that the colors were more vivid; the grass was much greener and the red of the roofs of the distant houses more intense.

Contrary to everything I had ever heard the animals in the fields took not the slightest notice of the gathering gloom. Cows, sheep and horses grazed calmly on or lay quietly chewing the cud. Neither was there a sign of unrest in the bird world. The sky-larks did not cease their warbling nor the plovers circling over the meadows uttering their plaintive cries. Starlings and crows flew about in little flocks as usual. No birds went to roost as far as I could see.

The plants and flowers around me utterly ignored the phenomenon; the daisies did not close their starry eyes and the clovers did not fold their trefoils in sleep as they do at eventide.

But as I looked the moon was passing swiftly across the sun's disk and the lower right hand "horn" of the sun was visibly lengthening. The colors in the landscape grew brighter; more light flooded the fields. It seemed as if the light increased with greater rapidity than it had diminished. The temperature rose as the sun's sickle now appeared standing upright like a golden new moon. Then in a few seconds the lower rim of the sun reappeared. Soon it was "half sun," then three-quarters sun and at ten minutes to 2 only a small dark indentation showed on the extreme left of the sun's surface. At 1:57 the phenomenon was over. It had lasted about two hours and thirty minutes.

EGG'S SKIN AS LEG PATCH

Hole in Broken Bone Filled With Albuminous Tissue by Physicians May Heal.

New York.—The skin of an egg has been used by the surgeons in the Babylon (L. I.) hospital to fill up a hole left in the broken leg of a man. By the use of the egg it is believed that the injured limb will heal and, after a short time, be as serviceable as ever.

A few days ago Babylon residents were surprised by an advertisement appearing in a local paper, stating that the Babylon hospital was in need of an egg ready for hatching. Inquiry as to the use to which the egg was to be put revealed a curious operation in reconstructive surgery performed upon Patrick Padian, a patient in the hospital.

A telephone pole fell on Padian's leg, fracturing it. In healing, a small hole was left in the bone. The skin of the egg was placed in the hole, and the development of the cells formed new bone tissue, which has completely filled the opening.

73 Wounds; Can't Die Yet. San Francisco, Cal.—Michael Asheim, until recently a cigar dealer at No. 735 Ellis street, made an unsuccessful attempt in Golden Gate park to end his life by inflicting 73 wounds in his body, with a pocket knife. When examined at the Park Emergency hospital it was found that Asheim had cut his throat from ear to ear, stabbed himself 27 times in the breast and 45 times in the scalp.

Despondency because of failure in business was given as the cause of the man's act.

The KITCHEN CABINET

SOME FAVORITE DISHES.

A cake that can be put together in a hurry and still be delicate is one that appeals to the busy housekeeper.

Lightning Cake.—Put into a cup two eggs, unbeaten, four tablespoonfuls of melted butter (not hot), fill up the cup with milk, add a teaspoonful of vanilla and turn into a bowl. Into the flour sifter put a cup of flour and a cup of sugar, one teaspoonful of baking powder and a little salt; sift all together and stir into the other ingredients. Beat well and bake in a loaf or in layer tins.

Citron and raisins, with spice, may be added to change the flavor.

The children enjoy brown sugar sandwiches. Spread bread with butter and sprinkle generously with light brown sugar; put together in sandwich form, and they may be eaten without soiling the fingers.

Coffee and Caramel Frosting.—When making a caramel frosting, coffee is sometimes used instead of water. It imparts an unusual flavor which is very enjoyable if one likes coffee. Brown two tablespoonfuls of granulated sugar and when a reddish brown but not burned add three tablespoonfuls of boiling hot coffee. When the coffee has dissolved the caramel, pour the mixture over powdered sugar until a smooth paste is formed which will not run off the cake.

Curried Eggs.—Fry two small onions in butter until a golden brown, add a pint of good stock and one tablespoonful of curry powder. Stew until the onions are tender, then add a cup of cream, thicken with rice flour and simmer a few minutes. Cut eight hard-cooked eggs in halves, arrange in a deep dish and pour the sauce over them. Serve with a plain lettuce salad or shredded lettuce with stuffed olives adds to the dish.

Lettuce Salad.—Rub a salad bowl with a cut clove of garlic. Place the lettuce in the bowl and add the chopped white of a hard cooked egg. Mash the yolk with a fork, season with salt, pepper and mustard, add olive oil and vinegar and pour over the salad.

ENRILE IS ARRESTED

Former Treasurer of Mexican Revolution Seized by Ranger.

Charged With Embezzlement While Consul—Orozco Releases Him—Captor Is Shot to Death.

El Paso, Tex., June 10.—Gonzales E. Enrile, former chief promoter of the present revolution in Mexico and handler of its finances, was arrested here as he crossed the bridge from Juarez, at the request of the Mexican government on a charge of embezzlement alleged to have been committed while he was consul under President Diaz at Clifton, Ariz.

Enrile was fleeing to the United States for medical treatment. Three weeks ago he was attacked by three would-be assassins in Chihuahua and sustained severe knife wounds. He distrusted his physicians and set out for the United States after a telegram had been sent to Juarez announcing his death, for the purpose of deceiving his enemies in Juarez.

Enrile was recognized and arrested in Juarez by Capt. Carlos Gonzales. He was taken before Colonel Orozco, head of the garrison, who sentenced him to death. At the request of Enrile a communication was sent to Gen. Orozco, the rebel chief, who, although he had repudiated him, ordered the prisoner's release. Gonzales, who was a classmate in college of Christy Mathewson, the baseball pitcher, was found dead afterward with a bullet in his brain. Friends of Gonzales declare he was killed by Enrile.

Enrile will be held here forty days pending the arrival of extradition papers from the Mexican government.

FATHER WAS WIFE'S ADMIRE!

Son Attacks and Beats Parent Who Comes to Visit Him After Fifteen Years of Separation.

San Bernardino, Cal.—When Oscar Johnson was about to enter his home he saw a stranger embracing his wife. The husband seized a brick, rushed into the house and struck the stranger such a tremendous blow on the head that he was knocked unconscious and may have suffered a fractured skull.

Then Johnson investigated and found that the unconscious man was his own father, O. W. Johnson, of Peoria, Ill., whom he had not seen for fifteen years, and who had come here to surprise his son with a visit. When Mrs. Johnson saw her husband strike his father she went into hysterics and became threatened with complete nervous breakdown. She declared she would seek a divorce from a husband whose jealousy was so unreasonable and whose suspicions were so unfounded.

Johnson said he would take a second look before he leaped again, and sought a physician, who probably will attend both the wife and father for some time.

STANLEY QUIZ HITS STEEL TRUST

Report Will Recommend Legislation to Dissolve U. S. Corporation.

CALLS COMBINATION MONOPOLY

J. Pierpont Morgan Realized the Enormous Profit of $630,000,000 for Engineering Big Consolidation, Says Committee.

Washington, June 10.—The Stanley committee, which made an exhaustive investigation into the United States Steel corporation, will file its report within the next ten days. The report will directly accuse J. Pierpont Morgan, leading spirit in the steel trust, of being the arch enemy of the Sherman anti-trust law and of the independent steel business in the United States. It will show that in the organization of this one company Mr. Morgan and his personal associates reaped the unprecedented profit of $630,000,000.

Report Recommends Dissolution. The report will recommend legislation for the dissolution of the United States Steel corporation as a monopoly on raw material within the definition of the Sherman anti-trust law under the recent decision of the Supreme court and as a holding company in defiance of a former decision in the case of the Northern Securities company, a railroad combination.

It will also recommend: Federal incorporation and registration of all industrial corporations doing an interstate business with the right of federal inspection, such as its now exercised over federal banks. That the states be given the right to control the tax to be levied on corporations and the character of its business. Legislation prohibiting national banks from participating as corporations in industrial combinations and will provide criminal penalties for interlocking directorate boards. Legislation prohibiting in the future the acquisition by any individual or corporation of mineral rights or properties, whether in public or private ownership, that may lead to a monopoly within the definition of the law.

Says Morgan Fled Country. Delay in the presentation of the report was directly due to the hope of Chairman Stanley that J. Pierpont Morgan would return to the United States in time to testify.

"Mr. Morgan purposely fled the country to escape appearance before the committee," said Chairman Stanley. "I am not without hope that we will be able to summon him."

Mr. Morgan, it will be stated in the report, consolidated fifteen companies and more than 200 subsidiary concerns into the giant corporation he now controls.

The Steel corporation is the holding company for concerns capitalized at one billion, one hundred and nineteen million dollars.

Steel Trust Profits Enormous. According to the report made to the Stanley committee by F. R. McRae, chief accountant, as totaled in the Stanley committee report the sales of the steel trust aggregated up to December 31, $5,404,631,046 and the net earnings $905,639,607. The net earnings per ton on steel products has been $13, or about 40 per cent. on cost.

Mr. Morgan reaped a profit of $630,000,000 from the promotion of the Steel corporation in addition to $6,800,000 out of a bond conversion scheme presented by George W. Perkins, one of Morgan's partners.

From April 1, 1901, to December 31, 1910, it has derived an income of $801,369,451. It has paid in dividends on preferred stock $269,414,628 and in common stock $124,511,660.

The report will show that the steel trust is a monopoly in its control of workable iron ores in the United States.

As farmers in Canada are going broke and land prices tumbling no one will buy it. I have talked and advertised for ten years that only a third or less of either of the Dakotas was good for farming and the good part of S. D. too high to buy. The last two crops show what is best. Cavalier county had crops in 1910 that paid for the land and also in 1911. 1912 promises much better and I will still give you a chance to pay for a farm with one crop. As an investment land here will pay better interest on $100 an acre than land in Ill. at the price it is selling at as there so much of the rent has to be paid out for taxes, improvements and insurance. Having been here over ten years I predict Hundred Dollar land here in five to seven years. The farmers here are buying it and they are making money faster than any other farmers in the world.

I had suffered for quite a long time from pains in my back and sides and they were particularly severe at night and early in the morning. MAN'S LANGUAGE TO BRUTES Peculiar Click and Chirp Used to Start and Hasten Horses Used in Many Parts of World.

The tale of the farmer in the Arabian Nights who could understand the language of animals and fowls in his barnyard probably had its origin in the ancient myth which asserted that in primitive times men and beasts were able to converse together.

In truth, as everybody knows, there are certain sounds, or words, which horses, dogs and other animals can be taught to understand; and, on the other hand, some of the sounds uttered by domestic animals have a meaning that man can understand. All this is, of course, a very different thing from language, and yet it has a certain scientific interest, evidenced by the various investigations that have been made.

It has been shown, for instance, with reference to the language used in talking to domestic animals that people unconsciously attempt to lower their language by abbreviations, etc., to the comprehension of brutes, very much as they do when they talk to young children. A curious fact is that the peculiar click and chirp used to start and to hasten the movements of horses are employed in widely separated parts of the world, but sometimes in a reverse sense. In India, for example, those sounds are used to stop instead of to start horses.

For Fishes.
"Now, Sude," said the Sunday school teacher, "you may read the next verse."

The little girl read, "Cast thy bread upon the waters."

"Why should we cast our bread upon the waters?" asked the teacher. "Cause the fishes have to be fed," was the reply.

Brother Was Too Small.
Elsie, aged 4, was taken in to see the new baby brother that had recently arrived. "Mamma," she said, after looking the baby over, "why didn't you pay a dollar more and get a size larger?"

At first glance, taking these things into consideration, it would seem impossible to remove the ring, but it can be done and, as you will realize on second thought, the secret lies in moving the legs to the right position.

FIND AMUSEMENT IN PUZZLE

Object of Invention By Maine Man Is to Remove Rings From Around Body of a Grotesque Manikin.

An amusing and by no means easy puzzle has been invented by a Maine man. The object of the puzzle is to remove a ring from around the body of a grotesque manikin. For the purpose of the puzzle the legs and the rest of the figure are in separate sections, the legs being pivoted at the lower part of the body. Also, the legs are bowed outwardly so that their

GHOST ALARMS THE POLICE

New York Officers Say It Is a Veteran of the Revolutionary War—Roundsman Doubts Story.

New York.—The old soldier is walking again on Morningside Heights. An uneasy veteran is he. Just because someone sneaked into his tent in the war of the Revolution and thrust one of the old fashioned broadswords through him he has been an annoyance to the residents of that vicinity for more than a hundred years. Nowadays the neighborhood is grown up in apartment houses, but that makes no difference to him. He comes out of the janitor's door of the house which occupies the former site of his tent and goes for his midnight stroll as nonchalantly as ever. Fortunately he doesn't walk often.

The other night Cy Townsend, the policeman who has the fixed post at One Hundred and Nineteenth street and Morningside avenue, saw the hazy figure of the old soldier gliding by him. Policeman Townsend made a perfectly horrible noise as he beat it in the general direction of his patrolling mate. He found the officer in a high fever. He had seen the old soldier, too. A night hawk cab driver had also been favored by a sight of the visitant. The night hawk was making strange noises in his throat. As they were discussing the weird occurrence the roundsman came by.

"We saw the old soldier," said the three in chorus.

The roundsman carefully smelled the breath of the three. The two coppers passed muster. The roundsman stepped well to the windward of the night hawk after the first sniff and began his interrogatories.

"Nix on this ghost stuff," said the roundsman, after he had concluded his questions. "If the old soldier comes around here again you guys want to make an arrest or you go up on charges."

Policeman Townsend and his mate were white and shaky. They wanted to know on what charge they could arrest a ghost—even supposing that the ghost submitted peacefully to arrest.

"Well," said the roundsman, "what does this old soldier look like, anyway? Does he wear a uniform? Has he any legs?"

After consultation, the two policemen attested that the old soldier was in mufti. Also, he had no legs. He just sorta slipped along, kinda wavering like. The roundsman spoke with decision.

"If he ain't got no legs," said he, "you can pinch him for having no visible means of support."

Then he went away chortling. Policeman Townsend and his mate have decided they do not like that roundsman.

LASHES SELF IN RIGGING
Wrecked the Master on Wrecked Ship—Ing-Schooner Saves Life by—Timely Act.

Seward, Alaska.—The mail steamer Dora, bringing 35 survivors of the wrecked cod fishing schooner Joseph Russ, including Mrs. Charles Foss, wife of the master of the lost vessel, arrived from Chirikof Island, where the Russ went ashore at one o'clock in the morning.

The Russ struck at high tide during a terrific gale. Immense waves swept the decks and the crew and the lone woman lashed themselves to the rigging, where they remained six hours, when the tide went out, leaving the ship high and dry on the rocks.

First Mate John Jorgenson, the only one to lose his life, was swept off the deck soon after the schooner struck and was dashed to death against the rocks.

When the tide went out and those aboard found it safe to descend from their places of refuge in the rigging, baggage, provisions and other articles that would enable them to live on the uninhabited island until rescuers came, were taken off the boat.

As soon as all had been made snug on shore, Second Mate A. E. Reeves set out in command of two small dories to row to Chignik, 100 miles distant, for aid.

They pulled into Chignik three hours before the steamer Dora, on her monthly voyage from Unalaska to Seward, entered the harbor. The Dora put about at once and steamed to Chirikof.

These are the very words one man used in telling us about his old reliable Saginaw Silo. He added, "It was a farmer owning only 20 acres, even if I had to borrow the money, I would have a Saginaw Silo." The Saginaw preserves your silage perfectly—gives you, at one-half to one-fifth the old cost, an abundance of fresh-building ration for your fattening stock and the richest butter-producing feed for your dairy cows all through the winter. The Saginaw is built to do this for a lifetime. It is as solid as a mass of granite. It can never blow down. The convention will be held here June 13, 14 and 15. There are more than 1,000 members, all of whom will attend the meeting. About 2,000 visitors are expected and excursions on a number of railroads will be run to Duquoin. The convention will open Thursday with a reception to visitors at headquarters. At the afternoon session Mayor Jacobs will deliver an address of welcome. He will be followed by President Pace of the "Hustlers." In the evening the Duquoin members will tender the visitors a ball.

Rich Woman Leaves Two Wills.
Carlyle, June 10.—Relatives of the late Olive Bloomberg Clews and George Key, a deputy United States marshal of East St. Louis, are contesting in the circuit court here over property valued at $15,000 left by the dead woman. The woman, who lived in East St. Louis and St. Louis for several years, died in a St. Louis hospital last October. Later two wills were filed in the county court here. In the first will her mother, Mrs. Thomas Louby of Huey, is made the principal beneficiary. In a later instrument signed a few days before her death, practically all of the estate was left to Key, a friend.

War Relics Given to Post.
Paxton, June 10.—Dr. S. M. Wylie of this city has presented to Paxton post, No. 387, G. A. R., a collection of Civil war relics, which he has spent years in gathering. The collection has been placed in the cases in the corridor of the courthouse and has revived great interest. The collection consists of fourteen guns, swords, caps, canteens, cartridge belts, gun cleaners, revolvers, holsters, sabers, trench tools and other apparatus. A number of the swords are in the same condition as when left on the battle field.

Girl Dares Negro, Screams.
Alto Pass, June 10.—Pointing a rusty revolver at her and grasping her arm, a negro accosted Janet Farrell, fourteen-year-old daughter of Mitchell Farrell, and ordered her to go with him. Although threatened with death if she offered resistance, Janet screamed and broke away from him, reaching her home, half a mile away, where she collapsed. A posse was organized, which has been searching for the negro without avail.

Autos Get Churches' Mite.
Bloomington, June 10.—Marion Lawrence, international secretary, at the annual convention of the Illinois Sunday school convention at Elgin, made the assertion that automobiles were responsible largely for the marked decline in contributions for religious work.
